

PORTO & MINHO — ANOTHER RHYTHM

5 DAYS

PORTO — A WAY OF BEING

In Porto, the experience unfolds around the river and its margins.

The city reveals itself through layers, shaped by simple movements, pauses, and shifts in perspective.

The Douro structures the reading of the territory — it separates and connects, bringing elements together and reshaping the gaze.

Three contexts guide the experience:

- Gaia — wine and cultural spaces
- Historic city — urban fabric and layers of time
- Douro riverfront — crossings and moments of observation

It is not about seeing more, but about seeing with continuity

PORTO — 3 DAYS

Fewer decisions. More attention to the rhythm of the place

DAY 1 — GAIA (WINE & CULTURE)

- A first approach to the city from the southern bank.
- Wine cellars, cultural spaces, and an introduction to the Douro universe..

Where the territory begins to take shape

DAY 2 — HISTORIC CITY

- Exploring the city through layers.
- Streets, historical density, routes, and moments of pause and observation.

Where time remains in layers

DAY 3 — DOURO RIVER

- In Minho, the experience extends naturally — with more time, more space, and a more direct relationship with the territory.
- There is no rupture, only a change of context. The way of being remains.

Where everything connects without fixing itself

MINHO — IN NATURAL CONTINUITY

In Minho, the experience extends naturally — with more time, more space, and a more direct relationship with the territory.

There is no rupture, only a change of context. The way of being remains.

MINHO VALLEY — 2 DAYS

DAY 4 — MOUNTAIN & THERMAL TRADITIONS

→ WWG Experience (guided)

- A mountain route, paced according to the group.
- Reading the granite landscape and territory: isolation, mobility, and local identity.
- Moments of pause, silence, and a light tasting of regional products.

→ End of the day

- Return to the accommodation.
- Access to the thermal baths of Monção or Melgaço as a natural extension — recovery and slowing down.

 Where the body slows and the territory becomes tangible

DAY 5 — WINE AND TERRITORY

- Self-guided day with WWG orientation (or direct guidance)
- Contact with Alvarinho producers
- Informal paths through vineyards and reading of the agricultural landscape
- Visit to the traditional river fishing structures (pesqueiras), introducing the relationship between river, border, and community

→ Optional thermal moment

 Where wine reveals the territory that sustains it

DAY 6 — DEPARTURE

→ A quiet departure, with no additional program.

 Where the rhythm of the territory naturally continues

SELECTED STAYS

WWG programs connect with a curated selection of accommodations where the relationship with place and the rhythm of the stay are essential.

More than a logistical base, these spaces extend the experience and reinforce the connection to the territory.

Integration remains flexible, adapting to guest profiles and length of stay.
